Random Information

.

.

- 24/7 building access, just swipe your OneCard

- Meeting rooms on 2nd floor

- Projector in common area and speakers available

Lab Rules

- KEEP YOUR ACCOUNT SECURE!

- No Food

- Don't be loud, yes this includes when playing games

Your CS Account

- home directory is 750mb
    - temp space on /var/tmp

- <csid>@ugrad.cs.ualberta.ca e-mail address
    - forwards to <ccid>@ualberta.ca

- Print quote, 50 pages
    - Don't print course notes, mmkay?

Working from Home

- For windows, winscp and putty

- Easiest with a non-windows OS

- ssh and ssh -Y

- scp

Unix is awesome

- useful commands
  - ○ users, finger
  - ○ grep
  - ○ ps, kill
  - ○ whereis, which, nice

- Should be covered in more detail by a TA, if not, ask them

Printing

- It can be a pain
  - o Must be a ps file, various ways to convert various different file types

- printing commands on lab intro moodle page: moodle.cs.ualberta.ca
  - o lprm is your friend

- File -> print, works for some things.

Pub

- Common space for executable maintained by volunteer students
  - We can run almost anything we want, yes that includes games
  - Unfortunately there aren't many games that run on Linux

- Some example applications http://ugweb.cs.ualberta.ca/~pub/index.cgi

MSDNAA

- Can get free stuff
  - https://webapps.cs.ualberta.ca/softwarelib

- If you want to download from lab machines, download iso to /var/tmp
- burn cd

  cdrecord -v dev=/dev/cdrw -data foo.iso

Helpdesk - The CS one

- Hours are posted outside helpdesk (Room 1-32) by the common area
  - ○ Off-hours contact info also posted on sign
  - ○ Helpdesk@cs.ualberta.ca

- New account info sent to your CCID, no that was not spam/phishing
  - ○ No support staff will ever ask for your password

- There is a hand sanitizing station

Helpdesk - The Campus one (AICT)

- http://helpdesk.ualberta.ca

- 1gb of storage space

- UWS campus wireless

- Webspace

- Your webmail (<ccid>@ualberta.ca)

UACS - Just a shameless plug

- Room 1-40

- We sell cheap food and snacks, cost to nearest $.25 over the prices at CostCo (sometimes cheaper)

- Book Library

- Lockers

- Weekly Update
  - We condense and package your spam/ham